Arts Management: Uniting Arts And Audiences In The 21st Century

Synopsis

Designed for students and practitioners with little experience in not-for-profit management, Arts Management provides an indispensable guide to the theory and practice of managing arts and cultural organizations. This concise text engages readers with case studies and critical-thinking exercises that will develop their ability to adapt to a changing industry. From governance and human resources to program development, financial management, and marketing, Arts Management addresses the unique atmosphere of managing the arts today. It meets the standards of the AAAE (Association of Arts Administration Educators) guaranteeing that both current and future practitioners will be prepared to meet the challenges of managing today's arts organizations.

Excellent condition!

The book arrived on the exact date, the book was in great condition. It's all I expected and more!

This is a wonderful book written by an amazing woman!

The book is great! and in the condition mentioned.

Great!

Just finished reading Ellen Wetherbee Rosewall's "Arts Management: Uniting Arts and Audiences in the 21st Century" and IMHO it is the best resource out there for anyone contemplating a career in arts management. It should be required reading for students and new board members. Comprehensive, beautifully written, practical and really, really informative.
