Synopsis

Comprehensive student handbook for Podiatric Medical Students. While most students have a sound knowledge of information, discussing topics out loud with confidence can be a stressful experience. In this book, you will find many common and complex lower extremity conditions formatted into an easy to read and retain format. No one word answers. No bullet points. Learn How to read xrays, give detailed treatment plans, and discuss subjects with confidence. Kill your interviews and get your program. Any proceeds from this book will go towards the cost of publishing, and towards the funding of a free collaborative student website dedicated to board and interview preparation. The author will not profit. If you would like to get involved in case reports and topic submissions for the site, you can contact the author at learnpodiatry@gmail.com.

Aarron C. Flowers DPM completed his undergraduate degree at the University of California, Davis and his medical training at Western University of Health Sciences. He did his podiatric residency program at Kaiser Permanente. While in residency, he realized that he enjoyed teaching in the hospital setting. Interactive case reports, bedside rounds, and mock interviews became staple tools to enhance the education of rotating medical students. This book was created in an effort to reach all students interested in the field of podiatric medicine. This is not meant to replace any current books or guides. Use this merely as a different tool to better your performance and reach your personal goals. You can contact the author at learnpodiatry@gmail.com. You can also receive a free digital copy of the book if you are a current student and willing to submit a topic summary.
