My Hero Academia, Vol. 4

Synopsis

What would the world be like if 80 percent of the population manifested superpowers called "Quirks"? Heroes and villains would be battling it out everywhere! Being a hero would mean learning to use your power, but where would you go to study? The Hero Academy of course! But what would you do if you were one of the 20 percent who were born Quirkless? The U.A. High sports festival is a chance for the budding heroes to show their stuff and find a superhero mentor. The students have already struggled through a grueling preliminary round, but now they have to team up to prove they're capable of moving on to the next stage. The whole country is watching, and so are the shadowy forces that attacked the academy!

Kohei Horikoshi was born in Aichi, Japan, in 1986. He received a Tezuka Award Honorable Mention in 2006, and after publishing several short stories in Akamaru Jump, his first serialized work in Weekly Shonen Jump was Oumagadoki Doubutsuen in 2010. My Hero Academia is his third series in Weekly Shonen Jump.

This volume was really entertaining! The sports festival is raging on - and it's not your ordinary sports festival mind you. Teamwork is tested as well as individual skills. By now I have a new favorite - a bit problematic - character next to Midoriya which would be Todoroki! He is strong, but at the same time we barely know anything about him or his past. Mysterious! What's more, he seems to be determined to win against Midoriya which gives an amazing opportunity for Midoriya to come up with strategies/ways to win on his own - since he still can't really control his own power just yet. It ends with a big cliffhanger, and I am sure I would have thrown the book across the room if I didn't have volume 5 at hand to continue reading lmao XD

The sports festival is by far my favorite arc yet. We get a lot of character development, not only from our main character but also from the supporting cast. Favorite volume yet!

So My Hero Academia doesn't really really have the most original story when it comes to manga's. I'm sure people have already made the comparisons to other stories like One Punch Man and other battle manga's but it still brings enough to the table on its own with the first half having a unique set of powers continued to be displayed. And I was kinda worried because we introduced a lot of characters in the previous volumes and was worried that these characters were just background characters or just here for the action scenes but we do get a little of development and some background information for a few characters. The only thing I'm worried about is not surprising we're getting a one-on-one tournament and I hope this book doesn't become just straight action and continues developing characters and show more of the hero spirit that they have been with the last volumes.

Todoroki is so cool but such a pain in the ass with that attitude. I can't wait to see what Kacchan & Uraraka will do. Deku still crying, I'm still crying. God, I love this series.

Incredibly addictive Manga/Anime with Detailed Animation. Get This Manga If you're a Fan of Naruto, Bleach, DBZ, One Piece or Yu Yu Hakusho. This Manga and Anime Series seem to be here for good with good reviews and ratings expect Multiple Seasons at least 1 a Year

I'm a big fan of My Hero Academia, and I'm glad that the fourth volume comes out. Every chapter gets really exciting and it always keeps me hanging on what happens next. The sports festival arc is by far one of the best.

These are favorites with my kids (I haven't lifted one yet to try myself...)

I have most of these manga's and I saw the anime so now I own the manga's.
