

The book was found

Reforming The Higher Education Curriculum: Internationalizing The Campus (American Council On Education Oryx Press Series On Higher Education)

Synopsis

With the concept of a global village now a reality, institutions of higher learning must broaden their thinking beyond American social, cultural, and economic borders. Reforming the Higher Education Curriculum is a collection of papers that explores how a college or university can plan and implement a systemwide program for internationalizing the curriculum throughout the entire university. The contributors argue that a thorough overhaul of the higher education curriculum is necessary to turn out graduates with true international skills and perspectives. Among the strategies recommended are courses and programs that involve study abroad, intensive study of foreign languages, and opportunities to cultivate intellectual, professional, and personal associations with people from other cultures.

Book Information

Series: ACE/Praeger Series on Higher Education

Hardcover: 272 pages

Publisher: Rowman & Littlefield Publishers (September 9, 1998)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 1573561738

ISBN-13: 978-1573561730

Product Dimensions: 6.4 x 0.9 x 9.4 inches

Shipping Weight: 1 pounds (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: Be the first to review this item

Best Sellers Rank: #3,041,688 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #65 in Books > Travel >

Specialty Travel > Students #33083 in Books > Education & Teaching > Higher & Continuing

Education #55692 in Books > Textbooks > Education

Customer Reviews

The insights and challenges presented by these contributors, especially in terms of what the outcomes of an education ought to be, deserve serious reflection by the academic community. Graduate students and above; professionals and practitioners; general readers. (Choice)The collaborative effort among the faculty and students of the University of Minnesota should provide a model for other institutions to explore their approaches to internationalization. This is a well written book that all advisors would be well advised to read...will prove interesting to administrators and faculty concerned with International Education in research universities....outstanding chapters that will surely stimulate and deepen the thinking of people interested in this topic. I recommend the book especially to higher education faculty and administrators....useful summaries and criticisms of current attempts at internationalization....a broad but useful critique of the academy and its lack of notable success in international education....Joseph Mestenhauser brings both insight and constructive criticism. He also brings a wealth of experience. Also of interest to continuing education administrators....Mestenhauser, Ellingboe, et al., deserve a vote of thanks for their efforts. They do a wonderful job of building the case for change. They offer solutions based up on their beliefs and experiences. The editor acknowledges this kaleidoscope of curricular approaches by stating that there is not one but several international educations. This is also wh (NACADA)The collaborative effort among the faculty and students of the University of Minnesota should provide a model for other institutions to explore their approaches to internationalization. This is a well written book that all advisors would be well advised to read...will prove interesting to administrators and faculty concerned with International Education in research universities....outstansding chapters that will surely stimulate and deepen the thinking of people interested in this topic. I recommend the book especially to higher education faculty and administrators....useful summaries and criticisms of current attempts at internationalization....a broad but useful critique of the academy and its lack of notable success in international education....Joseph Mestenhauser brings both insight and constructive criticism. He also brings a wealth of experience. Also of interest to continuing education administrators....Mestenhauser, Ellingboe, et al., deserve a vote of thanks for their efforts. They do a wonderful job of building the case for change. They offer solutions based up on their beliefs and experiences. The editor acknowledges this kaleidoscope of curricular approaches by stating that there is not one but several international educations. This is also what makes the book interesting. Useful summaries and criticisms of current attempts at internationalization. The book is a useful response to those who preach glibly about internationalizing campus academic programs. (NACADA)

JOSEF A. MESTENHAUSER has published more than 80 books, monographs, documents, articles, and chapters on numerous issues relating to international and global education. He is a three-time holder of senior Fulbright grants in the Philippines, Japan, and Czechoslovakia. Mestenhauser was president of NAFSA: Association of International Educators and the International Society of Educational, Cultural and Scientific Interchanges (ISECSI). His honors include the Marita Houlihan Award for Excellence in International Education. He is currently a professor in the Educational Policy and Administration Department and is the coordinator of international education programs for the College of Education and Human Development at the University of Minnesota,

Twin Cities. Mestenhauser holds a doctorate from Charles University in Prague and a doctorate from the University of Minnesota. BRENDA J. ELLINGBOE completed her Ph.D. degree in Educational Policy and Administration from the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities. She is planning to start her own internationalization consulting service for administrators at colleges and universities. She also holds an M.A. in Educational Policy and Administration from the University of Minnesota and an M.A. in Latin American Studies from UCLA. Ellingboes research interests include the internationalization of colleges and universities, strategic planning, international human resource development and cross-cultural leadership, organizational communication, and intercultural communication.

Download to continue reading...

Reforming The Higher Education Curriculum: Internationalizing The Campus (American Council on Education Oryx Press Series on Higher Education) Vatican Council II: Constitutions, Decrees, Declarations (Vatican Council II) (Vatican Council II) A New Deal for the Humanities: Liberal Arts and the Future of Public Higher Education (The American Campus) No Campus for White Men: The Transformation of Higher Education into Hateful Indoctrination Oryx and Crake Media Across Borders: Localising TV, Film and Video Games (Routledge Advances in Internationalizing Media Studies) Conflict Management and Dialogue in Higher Education: A Global Perspective (International Higher Education) World List of Universities, 25th Edition: And Other Institutions of Higher Education (World List of Universities & Other Institutions of Higher Education) The Nine Elements of a Sustainable Campus (MIT Press) Reforming Medicare: Options, Tradeoffs, and Opportunities (Century Foundation Books (Brookings Hardcover)) Awaiting the King: Reforming Public Theology (Cultural Liturgies) In the Interests of Justice: Reforming the Legal Profession Reforming Parliamentary Democracy Profiles of Anabaptist Women: Sixteenth-Century Reforming Pioneers (Studies in Women and Religion) Core Curriculum for Neonatal Intensive Care Nursing, 5e (Core Curriculum for Neonatal Intensive Care Nursing (AWHONN)) Core Curriculum for Ambulatory Care Nursing (Third Edition) (Laughlin, Core Curriculum for Ambulatory Care Nursing) Core Curriculum for Pediatric Critical Care Nursing, 2e (Slota, Core Curriculum for Pediatric Critical Care Nursing) Core Curriculum for Neonatal Intensive Care Nursing, 4e (Core Curriculum for Neonatal Intensive Care Nursing (AWHONN)) Curriculum and Aims, Fifth Edition (Thinking about Education) (Thinking About Education Series) Global Perception: Sport Education, Teaching of Physical Education and Curriculum Studies

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help